SESSION 380

Unusual Papers That Might Change Your Practice - Primary Care Edition

This is a review of several unusual papers on a variety of primary care topics with a focus on how to use the information with patients.

1. By the end of the session, participants will have a few more pieces of evidence to inform and enhance their Primary Care (or similar) practice.
2. Participants will hopefully have a bit more than just a new medication to improve patient care.
3. Participants will be able to identify some of the caveats when trying to apply new evidence to practice.
